A BUSHEL OF FLOWERS PER PLANT

Princess

Plant Pat.
711

We are happy to be able to offer you Princess once again. Demand was so heavy for this plant that we had to delete it from our catalog for two years in order to build up sufficient stock. Words can hardly describe the beauty of this plant when in full bloom, for it is just a mound of rich mauve-pink flowers shading to rust, the blooms completely covering the bush from the ground up. The plant is so beautiful when in full flower that you can't help thinking of a lovely princess' bonnet, it is so well shaped. It grows 10 to 12 inches high—one of the lowest growing of all Azaleamums.

BLAZING RED (Plant Patent 1177)

Blazing Red was introduced in 1953 and has been the leader of all Azaleamums ever since. This plant makes an ideal border along walks or flower gardens, because of its low, 12-inch growth. Plentiful bronze flowers appear early in the fall, changing to a Blazing Red as cool weather sets in and holding this beautiful red color until hard winter freezes the blooms.

PINK DREAM (Plant Patent 865)

This Azaleamum could never have been named anything other than Pink Dream, because of the soft silvery pink that charms everyone who sees it. It has a soft, velvety texture, and the center is touched with a little yellow. Very beautiful contrasting colors. Grows 12 inches high. Another variety ideal for walks and borders.

NUGGET (Plant Patent 802)

A very low plant with clear lemon-yellow flowers. Not affected by very hot weather, but blooms early and lasts until severe winter. You will think you have struck it rich when you get Nugget established in your garden. Produces 400 to 600 blooms the first year. Excellent as a border.

HONEY CHILE (Plant Patent 871)

Another plant that is fine for walks and borders, of a very rich mahogany-purple color, giving the effect of dark pink. No garden would be complete without this beautiful color.

SWEETHEART

A real sweetheart, too, blooming early and profusely. The color is a dark shining pink, giving a very bright and glowing effect. Grows 12 inches high, with a profusion of bloom.

One of the most gorgeous of all Azaleamums with its delicate two-tone effect. The color is a soft lavender, shading to pink and white. Excellent for borders or along walks. Grows about 12 inches high.

TAM-O-SHANTER

One of the earliest Azaleamums to flower, and very unique in color. The earliest blooms in hot weather give a two-tone bronze effect, and later when the nights get cooler it turns to orange. Very beautiful and unusual, growing 12 inches tall.

SUMMER SUNSET
(Plant Patent 561)

The open flowers vary from rich apricot to light orange, taking on shades of buff which gradually change to deep rose or coral with traces of mauve. Grows 12 inches.

QUEEN ELIZABETH

QUEEN ANNE

QUEEN VICTORIA

Anemone QUEENS of the Azaleamum World

Our hybridizer, Mr. Prushek, has been working for years on a new series of Anemone-type flowers that have a beautiful tinted center contrasting with the outer petals, which are various shades of pink, red, gold and yellow and a clear white. We have delayed saying very much about these lovely Anemones until we had the full color line, as stated above. These plants will grow 18 to 24 inches tall, producing an abundance of colorful flowers. Every garden needs all of these charming Anemone Queens.

"AZALEAMUMS do well in full sun. They will not grow as well in the shade."

Delphinium is truly the King of the Perennial family. This really majestic plant is the envy of the neighborhood, standing high above its companions and boasting a wealth of royal blue and purple tones. Hybridizers have produced a number of excellent improved strains of Delphinium, of which we offer several.

ARMORE

Large, firm, bright cherry-red fruit that keeps well. Bears fruit over a long period and makes a good fruiting row. The most distinctive feature is the uniform shape of the berries. Compares with Premier in quality. Superior handling and shipping qualities and is more productive on old land than most varieties. Remains large size even for the last pickings. The firmness of the berries makes them superior for shipping.

VERMILION

VERMILION

Here is a new Strawberry produced by the University of Illinois Agriculture Department and extensively tested at experiment stations throughout the country. Leading fruit growers in Illinois are especially enthusiastic about it. An early bearer with a harvesting season that lasts about two weeks in early June. Well-formed, medium to large berries, smooth and very glossy. Attractive dark red color; more aromatic than most varieties. A vigorous plant, resistant to red stele, leaf spot, leaf blight, etc. Very prolific. 25 for $1.45; 50 for $2.25; 100 for $3.60; 250 for $7.95; 500 for $12.40; 1000 for $19.85.

JUMBO®

Trade-Mark

Midseason. An exceedingly vigorous grower producing large quantities of berries. When fully ripe it is very dark red, with excellent flavor. Berries may be picked when they reach the color of Premier, or allowed to remain on the plant until completely ripe. Not quite so early as Premier. Especially good for preserving. 25 for $2.00; 50 for $3.25; 100 for $6.00; 500 for $25.00; 1000 for $40.00.

DORSETT

This Strawberry is particularly recommended for the states of Virginia, Maryland and New Jersey. In many ways it compares favorably with Premier. It is as productive as that variety, and the berries are larger and brighter in color. Its quality is extra fine—about equal to Fairfax. This makes it excellent for the home garden and local market. It is not quite so hardy as Premier, and oftentimes the plants need to be thinned out because they become so thick that the size and yield of fruit are reduced. 25 for $1.45; 50 for $2.25; 100 for $3.60; 250 for $7.95; 500 for $12.40; 1000 for $19.85

BLAKEMORE

This has been called the "Premier of the South." It is the best early shipping variety for that region and is not recommended for growing north of Maryland or the Ohio valley. The berries are firm and of good bright red color. In size they are medium to large when the plants are not too thick in the bed. Berries ripen uniformly and can stand abuse in picking and shipping. The flavor is quite tart. A Strawberry popular with commercial canners and packers. Very vigorous grower.

^ CATSKILL

Probably the best Strawberry for freezing. With the use of frozen food lockers becoming so common, it was necessary to find a Strawberry that would freeze well and come out of the freezer still rich in color and flavor and still of firm shape. Catskill was the berry that filled those requirements. It has become a leader among all midseason varieties. The berries are extra large and the flavor extra fine, mild and sweet. Brilliant red, with fresh green cap. Very hardy, doing well in all northern states. One of the most productive varieties, vigorous and healthy. It is a good plant maker and the berries can stand wet weather at harvest time better than most varieties. Catskill is warmly recommended for all northern sections of the country.

^ FAIRFAX

This name has long been associated primarily with quality and flavor. In fact, for sheer eating pleasure Fairfax has long been regarded as the very best variety in the world. Firm, ruby-red berries that turn dark purplish when fully ripe. This darker color is a mark of quality to retail buyers; after their first taste of the delicious fruit, customers look for the distinctly darker berries. They are fan shaped at first, then normal shape. Sturdy plants bearing a fairly heavy crop. Not so productive as Premier, but growth is vigorous and enough plants are produced to make a fine fruiting row. Non-acid, distinctive taste that is a favorite everywhere. Brings high prices on every market and is especially profitable all through the middle and northern states.

^ FAIRLAND

Here is a very fine midseason to late variety that ripens a few days after Temple and continues over a long season. It is a robust grower with free production of new runners. And it is very resistant to red stele disease, which makes it valuable for areas where that root rot is prevalent. A very heavy yielder, ranking with Premier and Catskill, and especially recommended for the northern states where Premier is an important sort. Recent reports show that Fairland has done extremely well in Michigan, Indiana and Ohio, and in Massachusetts it outyielded both Premier and Catskill. It needs moist soil to develop the huge crop of fruit. The bright red berries are firm enough for shipping a moderate distance. They are almost as large as Temple.

✓ ROBINSON

Extra-large, bright shiny red berries, conical in shape and well colored to the very center. Quality and firmness are very good, making it a fine shipping variety. It bears heavily over a long period, starting only a few days after Premier. A favorite with commercial growers and a great success on the market. Plants are healthy and do well in the North. Produces many plants for a good fruiting row; in fact, they often must be thinned somewhat for best results. A wonderful berry that is becoming very popular for canning and table use.

✓ SPARKLE

The sparkling, glossy red berries are very appetizing. They are of good round form, and while only of medium size they are very freely produced. When grown as far south as Maryland the berries are rather soft, but in the New England States, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania and westward in the same latitude Sparkle has proved topnotch. Quality is excellent, though not quite so good as Fairfax. It has a very long, late ripening period. Rates high as a freezing variety. Almost immune to red stele disease.

✓ SENATOR DUNLAP

An older variety that has been grown in the middle and northern states for many years and is still grown and liked by many people. A very strong, high-yielding plant. Berries are of medium size, bright rich red color all the way through and of good quality. This is one of the best sorts for canning purposes. Sweet, delicious flavor. The hardiness of Senator Dunlap makes it especially adaptable to sections where cold winters often injure weaker varieties. A bisexual sort, best grown in narrow rows.

✓ TEMPLE

Another variety resistant to red stele disease. Large, firm, bright red berries with good sweet taste. An exceptionally strong plant that is a cross between Aberdeen and Fairfax. Has fine quality and good size. The color of the berry is lighter than Fairfax, becoming darker. Berries are firmer than those of Sparkle and Fairland. A heavy producer in midseason. Well adapted to all the northern states, where it is widely grown for shipping. Although it is not especially good for freezing, Temple is fine for garden and shipping.

Over the years a number of Strawberry varieties have been put on the market, but all in all Premier has never been eclipsed. It always produces heavy crops, and there is always a good demand for it. We were the original introducers of this berry, and we are mighty proud of that fact.

Kellogg's Premier has so many good qualities that it just could not help being a winner on every market. First, it is early, and that means high profits for the commercial grower. For the home gardener, it means extra satisfaction for the whole family. And it is extra large, with beautiful red color that goes all the way through. It bears well-shaped berries over a long season, and is so attractive that everyone wants it. The sturdy, frost-resistant plants are easy to grow and very seldom show any signs of disease. The flavor is very delicious. Solid enough to ship well, and tops for preserving. What more could anyone want in a Strawberry? Oh yes, it is very productive, too; one plant often bears a quart of berries. We strongly recommend Kellogg's Premier for every grower.
